STATE NEWS

Androscoggin

At the meeting, Monday evening, of the Auburn Loan & Building Association Secretary Gifford made his quarterly report. The report shows that there was a net profit on the stock of thirty per cent. Net capital of the association is now nearly $28 000 and that the ... capital is less than $1.00. This is a most flattering showing for the association. "Those who are acquiring homes," says Secretary Gifford, "through this association have the satisfaction of knowing that there is a time when they will be out of debt, and it but little more cost than if they were hiring rent instead of living in their own houses."

Aroostook

Work was commenced Monday on the new Episcopal church, in Caribou, which will be erected on Bridge street near Dr Cary's residence. The edifice will be ... W J Sullivan has charge of the work.

Albe Holmes boom in the Aroostook river just above the mouth of the Caribou stream gave way early Friday morning allowing 200,000 feet of cedar to flow down the river. Mr Holmes has sent a crew of men to drive the cedar to Fredericton where it will be disposed of.

Land Agent Cyrus A Packard has returned from Aroostook county, where he has been making arrangements for the conveyance of land to the French settlers in Township 15, Range 6. The settlers are some fifty in number. Mr Packard reports that the potato crop in that section is much above the average, having been damaged but little by the recent frosts. Forty two mills are daily grinding about one thousand bushels each into starch.

Wednesday afternoon, Robert Williams aged twelve, employed in Portland was run over by a jigger, the horses having taken fright and run away. The boy's arm was broken, and he was badly bruised on the head and legs.

Messrs Charles D Brown, of Portland, and Mr B Frank Brown, of New Hampshire, have just purchased the patent right for the United States, of a new corrugated hay cap manufactured of wood pulp, invented in Sherbrooke, P Q, by Symonds Bebe. The new company will probably start three or four mills for the manufacture of these goods.

Next summer the steamer Alice will make regular trips from Portland to Yarmouth. Mr J Monroe Buckman, of Yarmouth has given a landing to the Harpswell Steamboat Company, and has commenced work on a road leading from the landing to one of the lower town roads. The steamer will also run up the river to wharves at the falls.

Mr Will Stone, the Portland apothecary and Mr Moses Dole, book keeper at Ingalls, Bros Portland, have just returned from Moll's Rock, Lake Umbagog, where they had great shooting. Without counting the small birds, they brought back with them seventy black ducks all fat and in fine condition. There is a rumor that one of the twain at a single shot took off the heads of eight ducks that happened to be in line but the gentleman himself modestly disclaims such a feat.

Last Friday, George W. Corey, of Portland, was having his boots blacked in Boston, when he scraped the acquaintance of a stranger. The pair went off on a spree and met other strange and tough characters in the lowlands. Finally Corey discovered that his silver watch and $30 had been stolen. The next day the watch was found in a North End pawn shop, and Monday evening special officers Abbott and O'Neil of Station 3, arrested James McQuade for the larceny. He was identified as the man who pawned the watch.

Franklin

The frock of Cal Carville got caught in the belt at Russell's Novelty Works, Farmington, last week, and his frock, two shirts and undershirt, were torn from his body in the twinkling of an eye, but he escaped with a few bruises.

A young lad named Sherman Small, of Chesterville, ran away from his home last year with the intention of becoming a pirate, but was captured and brought back. Last week he stole $13 from his grandmother in New Sharon, and again set out to make a record for himself. Luck is against him, however, for he was captured at Mt Vernon. He had spent $7 of the money.

The farmers of Strong are about through digging their potatoes, and find them much better than last year, less rotten ones, and a much better yield. In a few fields where the soil was naturally wet, owing to the heavy rains they have had, they have rotted quite badly, but not so badly as last year. Many of the farmers who made a specialty of raising sweet corn, lost their season's work. Owing to the long spell of rain and fog, the harvesting of grain has been slow, and much of it is damaged.

Augusta is about making a contract with the electric light company for the lighting of the streets, there now being thirty-five arc lights erected on trial. The proposition is to have fifty lights at an annual rental of $75, making an aggregate of $3,750.

There are two cases of diphtheria in Augusta, one in a house on Grove street, and the other on the east side. Neither patient is as yet isolated, and there is danger of a spread of the contagion.

The reappearance of diphtheria at Hallowell is causing considerable uneasiness. Last winter there were upwards of fifty cases of diphtheria in that city, and several deaths. The present outbreak is at Granite Hill, six cases having developed there thus far.

The trial of Robert Hunter, of Hallowell, for an assault and battery on James M'Carty, took place before Recorder Whitehouse, at Augusta, Wednesday. Hunter was found guilty of assault and battery, with mitigating circumstances, and was fined $5 and costs from which he appealed. He was bound over for appearance at the December term.

Bids for doing the interior finish, plumbing, etc, in the post office building, at Augusta, were opened, Tuesday, in the office of the supervising architect of the Treasury Department, at Washington. The bidders were McCarthy & Baldwin, of Washington, $65,718, the work to be finished in nine months. G. W Corbett, $65,600, in the same time.

Mr. James Likeman, of Malden, Mass., celebrated Tuesday his ninety-second birthday, and received ... congratulatory visits from many friends. He was born in Hallowell, and has always enjoyed built the first passenger depot for the Boston & Albany railroad, and rode on the first passenger train that ever left Boston. He has built some of the principal buildings of Boston.

Rev Horace J White, formerly of Augusta, was Thursday night installed pastor of Pleasant street Baptist church, Worcester, Mass, the sermon being preached by Rev George E Horr, Jr, of Charlestown, and all the local pastors taking part in the exercises.

Cards have been received announcing the coming marriage of Kate, daughter of Judge Gresham of Chicago, to Wm Henry Andrews, in that city. Mr Andrews is a native of Thomaston, and a member of the firm of Wadsworth, Howland & Co, wholesale dealers in paints and oils in Chicago, reports the Rockland Courier Gazette.

Oxford

One of the most marked improvements at South Paris, is the change by the Grand Trunk in its station buildings. The old building erected in 1849 when the road reached South Paris, will be demolished in a short time. A little above and back from the street, an elegant station has been erected. It is of brick, of admirable architecture and build, and will be an ornament. On an opposite track is a new freight building, and further up a new engine house. The ground to the street is being fitted, giving a wide approach to the station. When complete, the buildings will present an elegant appearance, and make a great change in the appearance of that part of the village.

Somerset

Last Friday the horse cars brought to Fairfield a humble looking individual who, upon his arrival struck out for a building near the Depot square. The next car brought his lawful and wedded wife. She was armed with a club and at once dropped around to the before mentioned dwelling. There she found the object of her search. Catching him by the collar of the coat she yanked him into the cool bracing September air. Then raising aloft her club she began to belabor him. Good, loud strong words emphasized her blows. She literally broke her club over his head and then seized a piece of board and did the same over him. He begged and entreated but all to no purpose. The crowd that quickly gathered cheered her efforts to purify her home to the echo.

Waldo

Harrison Small of Stockton, has sold sixty acres from his farm on Cape Jellison to the Penobscot Bay Land Company for $3 000. The situation is a very fine one for summer cottages.

According to the weather report kept by Mr L H Murch of Belfast, for the past twenty nine years, the month just ended was the coldest September in all that time. At no time during the month did the mercury reach seventy degrees. The average temperature was 50 01, which was one degree colder than last year, and three degrees colder than the average September weather for the past twenty nine years. It rained on thirteen days in the month, and the rain fall was very large. There was frost on seven days and a spit of snow on one. Altogether September was a cold, disagreeable month.

Mr Atwood Gilmore, who lives on the Belfast and Searsport road, just over the line in the last named town, had a narrow escape from drowning last week. He was sculling a small boat off to his salmon weir to remove the netting, and becoming momentarily dizzy staggered to one side when the boat quickly shot forward, throwing him into the water. The frail boat would not bear his weight and after much struggling Mr Gilmore thought he must drown. At last he succeeded in overturning the boat and the air beneath being sufficient to buoy him up he crawled on to her bottom. By this time he was nearly exhausted. The boat drifted down against the hedge of the weir enabling Mr Gilmore to get ashore. It was a very close call.

There has been quite a "boom" in real estate at Islesboro, during the past week or ten days. A real estate broker from Boston has been there buying whole farms and when he could not get these, taking pieces of land near the shore. He has thus far bought Milton Whitcomb's farm of about one hundred and forty acres for $4,100, part of Wm P Farnsworth's place for $1,800, Mrs Irale Hatch's place at $1,000, the shore along Edson Sher man's farm for a good price, Finley B Keller's farm price as yet unknown, and Amasa Hatch's place has been bonded by other parties, together with parts of the places belonging to Charlotte Boardman, Wm S Dodge and others.

Work on the new hotel at Belfast is progressing rapidly. Inside, the lathing is nearly completed and a good deal of plastering has been done, while the exterior shows for itself. A coat of white lead and oil is put on the outside as a priming, and in the spring the building will be painted in colors. Just now the question as to who shall be the landlord is before the directors. Their preference is for a suitable man who is able to take the hotel and furnish it. They have had some correspondence with Mr William Weeks, formerly landlord of the old American House in Belfast, and later of the Presque Isle Hotel, and Mr Geo Bunts, the well known and popular clerk of the Kineo House, Moosehead Lake, is expected in Belfast in a few days to look at the hotel with a view to leasing it. There are other candidates for the honor and profit of conducting our new hotel, and there is every assurance that it will be placed in good hands.

Charles W Meserve, working for B F Pease, of Cornish, fell from an apple tree, Wednesday morning, and was killed. He lived about seven hours. Mr Meserve was a single man, about twenty two years old. He was a worthy member of Cornish Grange, also a member of Ossipee Valley Lodge, I O O F.

According to the Jewish Gazette of the two hundred and forty-one clothing manufacturers in the city of New York, two hundred and thirty-four are Hebrew firms. The Jews are also largely engaged in cigar making, employing over eight hundred hands and producing over 400,000,000 cigars yearly.

In his annual talk to students, President Adams of Cornell University deprecated intercollegiate contests, especially in athletics, though favoring athletic sports under proper restrictions, he insisted that the business of a university was not athletics. Classes were warned that if unable to control their impulse for interfering with the liberty of other students they would be promptly removed. It is evident that the celebrated cane rushes at Cornell have had their day.

Dog farming is now carried on in China as systematically as sheep farming anywhere else. There are thousands of small dog and goat farms dotted over Manchuria and the eastern borders of Mongolia where from a score to some hundreds of dogs are annually reared on each farm, and where they constitute a regular source of wealth. A bride for instance, will receive as dowry a number of dogs proportionate to the means of her father. It is probable that in no other part of the world are there to be found such splendid dog skins for size, length of hair and quality, the extreme cold of these latitudes developing a magnificent coat.

The full board of trustees of the State Agricultural Society have been in session at Lewiston this week, closing up the business of the late Fair, which proves very satisfactory. The total receipts will not be far from $25,000, and the expenses, so far as can be estimated, for this year will to be applied towards reducing the debt of the society. The purchase of the grand stand has proved a very paying investment, and the net proceeds will take quite a slice from the sum paid for it. While no definite decision has been reached in regard to the date of the Fair next year, the general feeling on the part of the officers is to hold it the second week in September. An adjourned meeting of the trustees will be held at the Revere House, Auburn Nov 8.

Honors Sad as Well as Glorious

RETAKING OF THE REGIMENT THAT LOST THE MOST MEN IN THE REBELLION

[Chicago Tribune]

The small body of men which held a reunion at the Grand Trunk Hotel Tuesday, were representatives of an organization that had the sad honor of having more men killed and wounded than any one of the two thousand regiments engaged on the Union side during the War of the Rebellion. The most remarkable fact in this connection was that it was all suffered in the campaign of less than one year, in two Spottsylvania and Appomattox. One Colonel one Major seven Captains fourteen Lieutenants and four hundred non commissioned officers and privates were killed and eight hundred and sixty were wounded.

It is a part of history that the First Maine of Heavy Artillery left Washington to reinforce Grant after his enormous losses in the Wilderness, and received their first baptism of fire at Spottsylvania May 19, 1864, when Gen Ewell left his intrenchments and marched around the flank of the Union army and attempted to capture its supply train. He would have succeeded but for the stubborn fighting of the untried Heavy Artillery. This son, which drove him back behind his works and won a reputation in the Army of the Potomac that they maintained to the end. The First Maine lost in that engagement one hundred and forty-seven killed and three hundred and thirty one wounded. In their charge on the intrenchments of Petersburg, June 18, 1864, out of nine hundred and sixteen who went in two hundred and ten were killed and three hundred and ninety-four wounded.

More than one hundred of the survivors of this celebrated regiment now reside in the Western States, and being unable to meet with their comrades in Maine, have formed a Western branch of the regiment and this was their second annual reunion. Two-thirds of those present carried reminders of rebel lead upon their persons, and most of them had not met since the muster-out in 1865, making the occasion of especial interest to all present. Among the members are

Col Z A Smith editor and proprietor of the leading paper in Kansas at Leavenworth, J B Parsons of Dwight Ill a large dealer in hardware and furniture, who has been prominently connected with the Illinois State Militia as Lieutenant Colonel, Dr G J Shaw of Lombardville, Ill, Capt C C Roberts foreman of a... department in the Chicago Post Office, E M Chamberlain Cashier of the Milwaukee & St Paul Railroad at La Crosse, Wis, Lieut Frank A Clark of Webster City, Ia, who has been for the last eight years connected with the United States Treasury Department, Lieut S S Woodcock, of Melvane, Kas who carried the regimental colors and had every one of his color guard shot on two occasions, and is now Deputy Sheriff of Sumner County, Kansas, Lieut F G Spratt of Alpena, Mich, ex Mayor of the city, and a prominent business man there, Capt E G Hersey of Stillwater, Minn a wealthy lumberman, Capt C W Lenfest, hotel proprietor of Anoka Minn, Walter S Gilman of Kansas City Mo, agent of Hale Elevator Company, and Lieut C L Heywood of Topeka, Kas, a saddlery dealer and a large real estate holder.

The association listened to the annual address by the President, and speeches from Comrades Clark, Woodcock, Gilman, Chamberlain, Roberts, and J W Phipps of the old First Maine Cavalry. Officers for the ensuing year are J B Parsons President; Z A Smith C L Heywood, F G Spratt, G J Shaw, and C W Lenfest, Vice-Presidents, F A Clark, J B Parsons S S Woodcock W S Gilman, C C Roberts, and E M Chamberlain, Executive Committee, Walter S Gilman, Treasurer, and C C Roberts, Secretary. J W Phipps and W M P Davis were elected honorary members. It was voted to meet at Milwaukee in September, 1889.

After the banquet at the Grand Pacific the members were entertained by Mrs. L P Hudgett at her residence No 1171 Millard avenue. She is the widow of Lieut Col Hudgett, of Maine who was killed while gallantly leading his regiment at Fort Blakely, Mobile Ala, April 9 1865. Miss Parepa Roberts read a poem written to commemorate the charge of the regiment at Petersburg, and Miss Paulina Roberts rendered the poem, "Where Are You Going, You Thousand of Men," written by Maine's poet, David Barker at the time the Regiment left for the war. Mrs. F M Pratt presided at the piano and the veterans sang all the old war songs over again and at a late hour broke ranks in old company style and pledged each other if alive to meet at Milwaukee next year.

PHOSPHATES IN BAKING POWDERS. Prof H C White, State Chemist, of Georgia, gave this subject attention and wrote: "I have been familiar for a number of years with the general character of Prof. Horsford's phosphatic preparations. Recent examinations made by me of his baking powder show it to be exactly what is claimed for it. When mixed with water a double phosphate is formed and remains in the bread when baked. In ordinary cream tartar baking powders the substance left in the bread after raising, is rochelle salts—a double tartrate. The phosphates are useful substances in animal nutrition and growth; the tartrates are not. In my opinion, the phosphatic powder is, therefore, preferable to the others, so far as ..."

THE YELLOW FEVER.

BLAINE IN THE CAMPAIGN.

Hoarseness and the Weather Interrupt his Michigan Speeches.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 5. In consequence of a slight cold and hoarseness, which developed since his speech in the open air at Adrian, yesterday, Mr. Blaine determined this morning to give up his trip to East Saginaw and Ishpeming. This determination was strengthened by the heavy atmosphere in this part of the State and reports of an icy temperature in the northern peninsular. Mr. Blaine is at the residence of General Alger, where he will remain until Monday, when he will fill his engagement at Grand Rapids and from that point he will proceed to Indiana. He has declined the proposed reception tendered him by the Chicago Union League. He will arrive in Chicago about the 17th or 18th of October. There is nothing serious in his present indisposition and his cancellation of the East Saginaw and Ishpeming dates was caused simply by a desire to husband his voice.

A FRIGHTFUL SCENE.

Four Horses in a Chariot Race Dash into the Crowd.

Many Persons Injured, Some Fatally.

KUTZTOWN, Pa., Oct. 5. A sad accident occurred this afternoon on the Kutztown fair grounds. The Roman chariot race had just begun and two chariots, each drawn by four horses, hitched abreast, had made one circuit of the race course, when one of the teams became unmanageable and dashed into the crowd of spectators. David Swab was fatally hurt. His grandson, Walter Freychler, was wedged under the wheels of the chariot, and severely injured. Miss Annie Fogeley was hurt about her head and neck and her condition is critical. Miss Mary Barin received internal injuries. A young man named Ettinger had his hips and spine injured and nearly all his clothes torn from his person. W. B. Best, a telegrapher, was knocked down by the horses and cut about the face. A number of children were run over and sustained bruises and contusions. The horses came from Buffalo, N. Y., and were announced on the bills as untamed mustangs.

SENATOR SHERMAN INTERVIEWED.

He Believes Canada will be Annexed.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 5. Gen. Sherman was in the city to-day, enroute from New York to his home in Mansfield. In an interview he said that Congress would probably adjourn in a week. There would be no vote on the Senate tariff bill, but at the next session of Congress the new tariff bill will undoubtedly be passed. Referring to the annexation of Canada he said: "I consider it is only a question of time until Canada is a part of the United States. Whether it will be in one year or ten Canada will undoubtedly be annexed."

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 5. No trace [illegible] F. Bosworth, the missing cashier [illegible] Mill and Border [illegible] Co., has yet been found, and his friends are inclined to the belief that he has committed suicide. The experts have unearthed a discrepancy of $1,000. This afternoon the directors of the Border [illegible] Co. held a conference with the bank directors. As a result Benjamin Cook [illegible] the business in the interest of the bank and the company assumes responsibility on $35,000 of notes. ANNEXATION OF CANADA.

The Sole Topic from One End of the Dominion to the Other.

OTTAWA, Oct. 5. Slowly, but surely, public interest, from one end of the Dominion to the other, is being aroused over the talk of annexing Canada to the United States. The question promises to dwarf all other political matters. It is practically the sole topic of conversation on the streets. The movement will meet with the greatest favor in the Maritime provinces, Ontario and Manitoba. Quebec, though populated by French Canadians, will be the greatest opponent of the scheme. This is attributed to the conservatism of the Roman Catholic church, which claims to enjoy the greatest liberties granted at the French conquest. The Protestants of Ontario very largely espouse their cause, while another element of the same religion will oppose it, owing the sympathy of the Canadian Irish, who in large numbers hate British institutions.

Best took a drink of whiskey and went out. Young Batson, to prevent his returning, immediately locked the door [illegible]

AT HARRISON'S HOME.

Delegations from Wisconsin and Indiana.

The General Makes an Excellent Speech.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 5. Wisconsin and Indiana were the States represented to-day at Gen. Harrison's reception. The Indiana delegation numbered about 1,500 and included a small club of Tippecanoe veterans. The Wisconsin visitors numbered 200. In his speech to them Gen. Harrison said:

Gen. Harrison's Speech.

I am glad to-day that Indiana has an opportunity to welcome a delegation from the magnificent State of Wisconsin. It offers a fitting opportunity to acknowledge my personal obligation and the obligation of Indiana for the early and constant support which Wisconsin gave to the efforts of the Indiana delegation in the Chicago Convention. (Prolonged cheers.) To-day two States, not contiguous in territory, but touching many interests, are met to express the fact that these great electoral contests affect all our people. It is not alone in the choice of Presidential electors that we have common interests, and the National Congress, though chosen in separate districts, legislates for all our people.

Wisconsin has a Direct Interest that the ballot shall be free and pure in Indiana and Wisconsin and Indiana has a direct interest that the ballot shall be free and pure in all the States. (Great cheering.) Therefore let no man say it's none of your business how elections are conducted in other States. (Cheers.) I believe this great question of free ballot, so much disturbed by race questions in the South, would be settled this year if the men of the South who believe with us on the great question of protection of American industries would throw off old prejudices and vote their convictions on the question. I believe there are indications that the independent manhood of the South will this year strongly manifest itself in this direction. These intelligent and progressive citizens of the South who are within their own States diversified industries, will not much longer be kept in bondage to the traditions of the days when the South was wholly a community of planters, when they assert their belief in a protective tariff by supporting the only party that advocates that policy. The question of a free ballot, so far as it is a Southern question, will be settled forever, for they will have the power to insist that those who believe with them shall vote and that their votes shall be counted. (Applause.) The protective policy by developing home supply and limiting importations, helps us to maintain the balance of trade on our side in our dealings with the world. Under the tariff of 1846, from the year 1850 to 1860 the balance of trade was continually against us, aggregating in that period the sum of $500,000,000.

Under the Influence of a Protective Tariff

the balance of trade has been generally and largely with us, unless disturbed by special conditions. Instead of sending our gold abroad to pay foreign banks we have been bringing foreign gold here to augment our store. (Cheers.) I will not detain you further. These demands on me make it necessary that I shall speak briefly.

The usual hand shaking followed.

THE WHEAT PANIC.

A Flurry on the Chicago Exchange.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5. To-day there was rustling and bustling on the floor of the Produce Exchange and prices of products of all kinds were dancing again. For two hours the fluctuations were measured by fractions. As noon approached there was a little movement of returning life, then there was a burst of strength. March began as an indicator and jumped a cent at a time. Traders looked at each other to see what it meant, then they plunged into the pits to catch the deal. Of course wheat led the way, but other products felt the bull strength and made a sharp advance. December wheat danced about between 1.12½ and 1.13½ the first hour. About 11 A. M. a whirl took the price to 1.15. Everybody was buying. At 1.15 it hesitated and dropped back to 117. At 12.30 P. M. there was no trading.

On a plot of land containing thirty rods, Mr. George W. Mitchell, of Dover, has raised this year sixty-five bushels of Clark's No. 1 potatoes. That they are monsters may be judged from the fact that fifty of them make a full bushel. The yield is equal to about 350 bushels per acre.

The Kineo House now has about fifty guests who are braving the cold weather and having a good time. The hotel will probably be closed next Wednesday for the season, which has been an excellent one at Kineo. Very few summer hotels through the State have had as prosperous a season as the Kineo House, which is always high in popular favor.

Probably no man takes more or as many fish from Sebec Lake in the course of a year as does Capt. T. J. Pollard. One day last week he, with another gentleman, went there and took a dozen fine landlocked salmon at the mouth of Ship Pond Stream, the largest of which tipped the scales at over five pounds, while the lot averaged better than three pounds. It was one of the handsomest lots of fish ever taken from the lake.

Ellery Avey, who is employed as a deck hand upon the steamer Rockland, was quite badly injured yesterday morning. With others of the crew he was at work getting in coal, when in going aboard the steamer he stumbled upon a scub warp, and fell beneath a heavily laden coal car which passed over his legs. No bones were broken, but the ligament of one leg was quite severely injured. He was taken to his home in Bucksport yesterday forenoon.

The electric railway workmen were engaged yesterday in stringing the wires across the street between opposite poles, erecting poles along the line, and putting in the curves at the intersection of streets. The overhanging wire to run at right angles with the pole wire will be put in place in a few days. This will be a piece of work that will require care. The work will be done upon a high platform erected upon a cart, and will be viewed with interest.

A crowd of Italians, nearly one hundred strong, arrived in the city yesterday from the Canadian Pacific Railroad. K. Stetson; Jennie F. Willey, with 495 tons for Bacon, Robinson & Co.

LUCKY HUNTERS. Our nimrods are beginning to return with the spoils of the chase, and show that, as predicted, deer are plenty this fall. Mr. F. L. Morrill, dealer in sportsman's goods, and Mr. J. H. Peavey, the well known expert with the rifle and the rod, returned home last evening from a trip to Washington county, bringing with them as trophies five fine deer, two young and three old, all of them does. They saw but one buck which got away, but did not get a shot at that. Their game, which was within one of the full number allowed by law, attracted much attention last evening at Holt & Morrill's store on State street.

Railroad Commissioners Wildes, Mortland and Bowers, with President Noalley and Superintendent Brown, of the Bangor and Piscataquis returned from their trip over the railroad yesterday afternoon on the Flying Yankee with which they made connection at Old Town. FUNERAL OF MRS. ARUBAH RYDER. The funeral services of Mrs. Arubah Freeman Ryder, relict of the late Capt. Samuel Ryder, who died Nov 1, 1881, were held at the residence of Capt. Jacob Harding, in Orrington, on Wednesday. Rev. W. T. Jewell conducted the services and Rev. B. S. Arey assisted. The South Orrington choir, led by Mr. Hinds, rendered excellent music. The day was stormy and cold, which prevented many from attending. She was 104 years, 8 months and 25 days of age. A memorial service will be held in the Methodist Episcopal church at South Orrington, where she was a member for so many years, Sunday, Oct. 14, at 2 P. M. Mr. Jewell, the pastor at South Orrington, and Mr. Arey, a former pastor, will both take part in the service.

GETTYSBURG EXCURSION. A slight change has been made in the rates of the Washington trip of the Gettysburg excursionists, and the programme now is as follows. Excursionists desiring to visit Washington can, upon returning to Harrisburg, obtain of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company special tickets from Harrisburg to Washington and return, direct to Philadelphia for $2.50 in addition to the regular Gettysburg excursion rate. For Richmond the rate will be $6 from Harrisburg, via Washington, returning direct to Philadelphia. These tickets issued at Harrisburg will bear the same limit of time as the excursion tickets to Gettysburg and will be available for stop over at Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia.

SNOW FLURRIES. Quite an amount of snow has fallen in the last few days through the northern part of the State, and not far from this city, and that region begins to assume a winterish aspect. Under the influence of the sun the snow disappears in most places, but in others it sticks closely. Yesterday morning the ground at the Katahdin Iron Works was covered with a slight covering of snow and there was quite a quantity on Saddle Back and White Cap mountains. Reports from Moosehead Lake and further north tell of snow falls and the sportsmen say that there have been several flurries along the northern lakes and in the woods. It has been very cold through that region during the last two weeks and the snow is the natural outcome.

GRANGE WORK FOR THE WINTER. Frederick Robie, Rufus Prince, Turner; J. W. Lang, Bowdoinham; Nelson Ham, Lewiston, and Fred Allen, executive committee of the State Grange, were in session at Augusta last week, arranging for Grange work throughout the State, the coming fall and winter. It is proposed to make a vigorous campaign and place several first-class workers in the lecture field, among whom will probably be Dr. G. M. Twitchell, of the Farmer. The lecturer of the State Grange, Mr. Barnes, of Houlton, is ill at the present time and unable to enter the field. It is confidently expected that the next annual meeting of the State Grange will occur at Bangor, the third Tuesday in December. The only officers to be elected are two members of the executive committee. The order is in a flourishing condition throughout the State.

ROBBERS AT WORK AT MONROE. Yesterday morning about two o'clock Mr. E. H. Nealley, of Monroe, was aroused by a noise and as he awoke he saw the reflection of a light on a picture in his room. His store is directly across the road from his house and he knew that the light must be in the store. He arose quickly and saw a light in the store and a man moving about with it. He gave an alarm and the robbers dispersed. While doing so a revolver was fired twice. Mr. Nealley's son got his gun and fired two shots in the direction that the robbers went. It was very dark at the time and no clue to the identity of the robbers was obtained. Mr. Nealley found on the platform of his store a chisel and bitstock, which were used to gain entrance to the store, and which in the first part of the night, had been stolen from the shop of Mr. D. A. Nye. The door of the post-office had been tried, and [illegible] but the robbers could [illegible]

BOWDOIN COLLEGE NOTES. The Bowdoin student jury has organized with the choice of B. C. Carroll as foreman, and I. C. Jordan as Secretary. The jury is composed of the following: B. C. Carroll, Victor Thompson, I. C. Jordan, H. R. Gurney, D. E. Owen, C. H. Fogg, W. R. Smith, C. P. Hersey, and F. L. Staples. —There is a prospect of Bowdoin sending an eight oared crew to compete in next season's intercollegiate races. Bowdoin has some splendid boating muscle and would make her rivals hustle to beat her. The boating association has not met as yet but when it does the scheme of sending an eight oared crew will be fully ventilated.——The Bates team will play the Bowdoins at Brunswick this afternoon. The subject of having an intercollegiate foot ball league in Maine colleges has been broached, and there is plenty of strong material at Bowdoin for an eleven. Several impromptu games of Rugby have been played upon the campus recently. The games would be played in the fall when it is too late for base ball, and would take the place of that sport. It is probable that another fall will see an intercollegiate foot ball league.

VESSEL OWNERS AND CAPTAINS. The annual meeting of the Vessel Owners and Captains National Association was held at the Mihonson, Boston, on Thursday, when the following officers were elected: President, J. A. Van Brunt, of New York; First Vice President, C. P. Lowell, of Boston; Second Vice President, J. S. Winslow, of Portland; Secretary, F. P. Litchfield, of New York; Treasurer, J. H. Cox, of New York; Board of Commissioners, C. A. Petit, of Philadelphia, T. M. Bartlett, of New York, Henry Sutton, of New Haven, S. M. Thomas, of Taunton, Henry Lord, of this city. Mr. Parker, of Richmond, Va., was present and made a statement regarding the efforts made to abolish compulsory pilotage. A committee was appointed to continue the effort to abolish compulsory pilotage on coasting vessels. Committees were also appointed to take measures to prevent the illegal registry of foreign built vessels, to confer with the harbor and land commissioners with a view to secure legislation for the more frequent passing of vessels through the bridges at the North End, to confer with coal receivers for the purpose of facilitating the receiving and discharging of vessels at Cambridge and to secure legislation to prevent extended tows along the coast. Permanent counsel were retained for members of the association and the scope of their services enlarged.

AMUSEMENTS.

Prof. Bristol's Horses at the Opera House.

The entertainment furnished by Prof. Bristol's horses at the matinee and evening performances yesterday at the Opera House, was a source of much pleasure to the audience present, who take much interest in the tricks, and gave evidence of their appreciation in frequent applause.

There will be a matinee to-day at 2.30 and an evening performance.

The Bennett and Moulton Opera Company.

The week's engagement of the Bennett and Moulton Opera Company will begin Monday evening with the presentation of the bright and pleasing "Boccaccio." A strong company and handsome costumes are promised. The Daily American says of the company:

"The ever popular Bennett and Moulton's Opera Company opened last evening at the Opera House what promises to be a very successful week of comic opera, appearing in Von Suppe's charming composition, "Boccaccio." The principals all did very excellent work, and the choruses were not behind in merit. Miss Irene Murphy, with her sweet voice, her pretty face and graceful figure, was the ideal Boccaccio, and charmed all her hearers. Miss Marie Greenwood as Fiametta was a surprise to every one, her singing being of a high order, and her execution being remarkably brilliant. Miss Helen Russell was, as usual, painstaking and pleasing. The comic scenes in which figured Messrs. Arthur Wooley, William Wolff and Frank Moulton could not be improved, and kept the audience in roars of laughter. Mr. Wolff's comic song, "Two Lovely Black Eyes," was encored again and again. Mr. Joe Armand's part of the Prince was finely sung and well acted.

Business of Spokane Falls.

A copy of the Spokane Falls, W. T., Chronicle which we have received, contained the following interesting figures about the business of the Northern Pacific Railroad at Spokane Falls, which is a good index of the business of this enterprising place where several of our Bangor men have settled and are doing a good business.

Figures, it is said, cannot lie, though sometimes they are made to prevaricate. The receipts of a railroad company at its station, however, will be generally admitted to be pretty good evidence of the business done by the place where the station is located. Judged by this standard, Spokane Falls is the most important point on the Northern Pacific railroad west of St. Paul and Minneapolis. The gross receipts of that company last year, from its railroad business, were sixteen million dollars. Of this amount, Spokane Falls contributed $1,200,000. The receipts of the company last month in this city were $125,000. Of this amount $30,000 was from the ticket business. This month (September) the receipts will probably reach $130,000. The ticket sale Tuesday, for instance, was $3,000, which was not much more than $1,000 over the average daily sales for this month, so that the ticket sales will reach $30,000 at least for the current thirty days. It is estimated that each car of freight that comes to this city averages $600 freight charges to the company. With the advent of new railroads the rates will go down, but the business will increase proportionately.

We also learn from Spokane papers that they have had no rain in Oregon and Washington Territory since June, which fact has enabled the farmers to harvest their wheat crop in splendid condition. Last year the rains troubled them all through the harvest season. The fall rains which have caused so much damage to crops in Minnesota and Dakota have not extended to the North Pacific slope.

Its remarkable salubrious and equable climate gives it an advantage over every other section of the world, in fact. That the coming winter will witness an increased tide of travel to the Pacific Coast is already strongly indicated. NOTICE.

The Fisherman of Naples.

By ALEXANDER DUMAS

[illegible]

"They only turn a deaf ear to all complaints, and only think of amassing wealth with our goods. His yearly allowance is a hundred thousand ducats and he sends annually to Spain thirty ships, each loaded with three or four tons of powder. ... For it is out of the people of Naples that all this gold is wrung."

Isabella turned pale but kept silent.

"When called upon to pay, Heaven be thanked, ... Jeanne, is an angel and courageously gets up every morning ... to go and sell her fruit ... Oh! if ..."

Jeanne raised her ... and melancholy ... looking at her brother ... it was ... the market yesterday.

"Great Heaven! it is impossible," exclaimed the daughter of the Viceroy.

"Everything is possible to impoverished people," replied Masaniello. "But to return to Pietro. I had 300 reals by me but he, poor fellow, was far from possessing such a sum. With his face bathed in tears, he fell on his knees before the tax gatherers who were taking away his furniture and implored them to leave him at least the bed of his poor old father, but he prayed in vain. In his rage, therefore, he seized the musket, and I arrived just in time to prevent the perpetration of a murder, for his musket was already leveled at the ... of his foe. I seized his arm, saying, 'Patience, Pietro.' ... He was now entirely without the means of living, ... but he is not for all that, one bit the less an honest man. Do you not now believe," continued the fisherman, "that the ... others who have been treated like Pietro will some day rise up, and, in their turn, crush those by whom they have been oppressed so long?"

"I believe," answered Isabella, "that if the Duke of Arcos were informed of the real state of things, he would prevent all revolt by doing the people justice."

"May Heaven inspire him!" said the fisherman.

Five minutes afterward, Isabella skipped lightly out of the boat, and taking the hand of Masaniello's sister, soon disappeared beneath the shady trees of the island of Procida.

As soon as they were well laden with oranges, which they had bought of the peasant girls, they hastened to return to the seashore. As they approached within sight, they observed Masaniello, who had remained in the boat, waving a piece of sail as a signal of distress.

"Make haste!" cried he, as soon as they were within hearing. "The sky looks threatening and the sea begins to swell."

"Envy on us!" said Dame Pedrilla, making the sign of the cross. "It would be better for us perhaps to remain on the island."

"Make up your mind as to what you mean to do," said Masaniello. "As for Jeanne and myself, we shall leave, happen what may."

"I think we shall have a tempest. But we shall brave it, shall we not, Jeanne?"

"Oh! yes."

"And so will I," said Isabella, leaping into the bark.

"My child, you are mad!" cried Dame Pedrilla in the greatest alarm.

"You can remain behind," said the fisherman to the duenna; "but we have no time to lose so you must be quick, if you are coming with us."

"I order you to come," said Isabella imperiously.

Dame Pedrilla obeyed, but she really thought her last hour was come. She therefore drew forth her rosary, and began to invoke every saint with whose name she was acquainted.

The sun had disappeared, and the sea now began to assume that greenish tint which announces the approach of dreadful disorder in its fathomless depths. The foaming waves dashed boisterously against the sides of the frail bark and the sea mew shrieked forth its shrill notes, as it flew backward and forward over the heads of the fisherman and his companions.

Masaniello stationed at the stern of the boat grasped the rudder with a steady hand, and dexterously guided his bark through the roaring billows. His look was intrepid, and his bearing cool.

"How is it," said Isabella to him, "that you still follow the calling of a fisherman, when you might aspire to a more lucrative and less perilous profession?"

"Because it gives me freedom," said the young man. "There is no profession which the foreign domination now exercised at Naples would allow me to follow without a blush."

"What do you mean?" asked Isabella.

"When the poor man, ... renounces manual labor, he has but two resources left him—domestic or military service, but the former is the worst of all for it degrades and dishonors him."
